SERAX

About

Antonino Sciortino

Antonino was born in Palermo. When he was just eight years old, he began to forge iron in his father's studio. He particularly worked with 'soft' iron, which is relatively pliable and thus easier to work with. For Serax, he has designed an exclusive collection for a broader market. The side tables and iron bowls give off the feel of sculptures, and through their artistic finishing touches (painted with brushes and polished), they preserve the soul that Antonino aimed to give them. They will perfectly suit countless interiors thanks to their pure forms and 'vintage' tinted look and finish.

Metal Sculptures

by Antonino Sciortino

“Designer Antonino Sciortino has added new objects to existing shapes and collections from the privacy of his metal workshop in the centre of Milan.

“I’m an artisan designer, I use my own two hands to work on shapes that I find relevant at a certain time. My designs are always the result of a need that I feel at any given time”, Sciortino explains. One of these needs is comfort.

Sciortino also feels the need to introduce more nature into the home, in a hectic city like Milan. The new plant stands are designed to motivate people to incorporate more greenery in their interiors.

The popular Serax designer also added some side tables and platters, in his own quirky style, made from iron. “My fascination for this material continues unabated. I started to work in my brother’s forge as a teen and I continue to work with iron on a daily basis. I find the resilience and strength of this material very appealing, as well as the simplicity that it exudes. Something that we appreciate in today’s interiors, I think.”

Designer Antonino Sciortino has added a series of FILIPPO side tables to the collection, to incite users to combine their shapes and colours. Sciortino’s tables, with their typical steel wire structure, are available in round, square and oval versions, in various hues of grey, ochre and black. They can be combined, depending on the interior or the occasion, into simple or more playful combinations. Antonino Sciortino’s understated designs are the perfect receptacles for fruit, vegetables, or interior design accessories. These bowls and dishes literally place their contents on a pedestal, raising them for everyone to see on slender legs. The various gradations of curvature - from rounded to a more pronounced oval - mean you can also mix and match the Nana bowls and dishes. Although designer Antonino Sciortino lives in central Milan, plants play an important role in his own home interior. He now combines this passion for nature with his passion for ironwork in these VASARO plant stands. These elegant, black stands come in two heights so users can incorporate plants at varying heights in their own private jungle.
